

Multi-Day PACKING LIST

Thank you for choosing to join Indigo Creek Outfitters on a multi-day river trip. Please reach out to us with any questions as you prepare for your trip.

River attire should be casual and comfortable. Please limit your personal gear but bring warm, functional clothing in the event weather is inclement. The Rogue canyon is usually warm, however rain and cold weather can occur at any time. Rain gear is essential on all trips. A light change of clothing and a wool or fleece pullover are usually sufficient for camp.

Each guest is provided with two waterproof bags for personal gear. One large bag holds your overnight clothing and sleeping bag while the smaller “day bag” will hold items you may need throughout the day. The overnight bag is carried on our supply boat and is not accessible during the day.

The large dry bag measures 16” in diameter and 25” tall when closure is rolled to maximum volume. We also provide a smaller dry bag that you have access to throughout the day. Please limit your personal items to these bags. If you have additional items we can probably accommodate them, but please contact our office so we know ahead of time.

On camping trips, Indigo Creek Outfitters provides tents, sleeping bags, and sleeping pads. If you prefer to bring your own camping equipment, please let us know.

For DeRiemer Adventure Kayaking Trips:
Please bring your kayak and personal kayaking gear, or arrange for a rental.
